"...we find the students eager and willing to learn about management accounting, are able to simply challenge the way we do things, which in turn makes us think of change. Additionally it provides great satisfaction to be able to help develop the students to be more "work ready" upon the completion of their degree and ensure they understand what their chosen career may include".

"For a number of years, the Co-operative Year placement has been a key aspect of KPMG's graduate recruitment program. We consider the program to be a fantastic opportunity for undergraduate students who are wishing to gain a year of work experience as part of their degree. Many of our Co-operatives secure a graduate position within the firm and return at the completion of their degree".
