

2012 Specialisation - Advanced English for Speakers of Other Languages (AESOL)

WHY AESOL?

This specialisation is offered to students whose first language is not English and who have not had the major part of their formal schooling conducted in the English language. It is designed for students who wish to undertake advanced study of the English language at University level. The specialisation is aimed to equip students with listening, speaking, reading and writing skills. It focuses on the systematic study of English with an emphasis on academic essay writing, synthesis and summary writing and overall analytical and research skills. Students also develop oral communication skills, gaining confidence in their ability to communicate in English.

Guidelines for students who commence their course from 2010 onwards

To complete this specialisation, students are required to complete SIX (6) units of study from the list below, including the two first-year units ACA1005 and ACA1006 (listed in bold).

Guidelines for students who commenced their course prior to 2010

To complete this specialisation (formerly known as major), students are required to complete EIGHT (8) units of study from the list below, including the two first-year units ACA1005 and ACA1006 (listed in bold).

All students should consult their course structure to determine if specific units from the 'Other Specialisation' list should be undertaken to satisfy the requirements of their degree.
