

2012 Electives for

Undergraduate Students in the Faculty of Arts, Education and Human Development

Your course is designed around CORE UNITS which are mandatory to the successful completion of your course. You will also have chosen one or two SPECIALISATIONS or General Studies, which are sequences of units within academic disciplines or study areas.

In most courses, you may also choose one or more ELECTIVES.

Most electives are also part of specialisations or specific courses. However, they are often available to students outside of the particular course or specialisation. In choosing ELECTIVES, consider units that may complement your other studies and career goals, but also use the opportunity to do something a bit different and broaden your mind and skills!

There are many interesting options in the Faculty of Arts, Education and Human Development. In 2011, these include:

Semester 1, 2012

First Year Level Electives

Later year students may often take electives from earlier year levels if you have not exceeded the total of first year units permitted in your course.
