Choosing the right type of housing can present a challenging task. Before you start looking you must determine what you can afford. What will be your source of income and how much of that income can you afford for housing? Do a budget to identify your expenses. The electronic budget planner on the Moneysmart website is ideal – www.moneysmart.gov.au

Next, consider your needs – for example, do you rely on public transport or will you need car parking? Do you need to be close to campus or an area for employment?

Write down a list of your needs and your budgeted amount for housing so you can take these into account when considering the options. And lastly – improve your living skills by ensuring you know how to do your laundry, cook and care for yourself.

Accommodation options include:
- university accommodation
- commercial student apartments
- shared housing
- private rental
- homestay
- rooming houses and hostels.

Take time to explore your options and take temporary accommodation – hotels, motels, hostels and backpackers to give yourself time to inspect accommodation before signing any lease or agreement or paying any money.

OFF CAMPUS ACCOMMODATION
In and around Melbourne, you can choose to rent a commercially operated Student apartment, a vacant property in the community, rent a room in a share house or live in a family home environment through Homestay.

You can find out more about different accommodation options by referring to the Share Housing, Renting, Homestay/Boarding, Hostels/Rooming Houses and Commercial Student Apartments Blocks sections in the Student Housing Guide.

STUDENT HOUSING DATABASE
If you are considering Off Campus accommodation, Victoria University has a Student Housing Database which students can access. The database can be viewed at vu.edu.au/housing

If you would like more help, the Senior Advisor Housing can provide you with budgeting advice, tenancy tips and information to help you look for the accommodation that is right for you.

Student Housing Services coordinates a House Hunting Friends Facebook Group where you can link in with other students looking for accommodation. To find out more visit vu.edu.au/facebook-groups
SHARE HOUSING
Choosing shared housing gives you the opportunity to live independently in a shared environment. You share the cost of the rent with others and share common areas such as the kitchen, bathroom and living room with other people living in the household.
Remember that as it is a shared arrangement people may tend to move in and out of the house. This can be great for interacting and meeting new people, but it may also create a challenging study environment.

JOINING A SHARED HOUSEHOLD
Living in a household and sharing the cost of rent and bills (and sometimes food) with other people makes sharing a cheaper housing option than renting on your own. In some instances, housemates take turns in sharing the cooking and put in money for communal living expenses (such as cleaning products).

It is less expensive if you choose to move into an established shared house that has furniture, kitchen utensils and whitegoods (e.g. fridge, washing machine). When looking at moving into a shared household, always check what is included and what you need to bring to the house.

Some things to consider before you move in are:
- shared rental and living costs
- number of people in the household
- current tenancy arrangements
- distance to campus and public transport
- if landlord permission is required
- shared house expectations and rules
- condition of the property
- safety inside and outside of the property
- landlord permission is obtained (if property is a rental)
- secure locks and smoke alarms.

The Housing Checklist (page 19) provides detailed questions to ask when considering and moving into a shared housing arrangement. When sharing it is important to recognise that the Residential Tenancy Act 1997 does not differentiate between the rights and responsibilities of co-tenants in relation to each other. If something goes wrong, a landlord can pursue any one or all of the co-tenants for damages. Specifically, this means that you can be held responsible for the wrongdoings of your housemates. For this reason, it is important to ensure that you meet potential housemates and discuss living arrangements prior to moving into a shared household.

RENTING
Renting a property in the private housing market gives you the opportunity to live independently and to be self-reliant. For some students this choice provides an excellent option for privacy, autonomy and lifestyle independence.
This option however can be expensive as you are responsible for organising the tenancy, paying for the connection to utilities, paying the full rent and managing ongoing bills.
Please consider your budget carefully. It is recommended that you allow at least 35% of your income for rent.
You are also solely responsible for all the daily chores associated with living in a house. For example there is no sharing of dishes, cooking, grocery shopping or cleaning duties. Again, if you enjoy being self-sufficient and are organised these responsibilities may not be daunting.

FINDING A PRIVATE RENTAL
There are a few different ways of finding a rental property in the private market:
- VU Student Housing Services Database
- visit real estate agencies
- search the real estate websites
- rental property listings in newspapers such as the ‘Herald Sun’ or ‘The Age’.
You must inspect each property you are interested in before applying. The web listing may contain Open for Inspection times or contact the Agent or landlord to arrange this.
When you decide to apply for a rental property, you will need to complete an application form. This contains a range of personal details including the contact details of referees. You will also be asked to provide details of employment and other sources of income and rental history. You will also be asked to provide a copy of your driver’s licence or passport.

TIP
Always complete a Condition Report before you move into a Rental Property. This important document is your written record of the condition of the premises (and may be used as evidence in any dispute about cleaning, damage or missing items).

If you would like help completing the application form, contact Student Housing Services Phone 9919 6100.

When inspecting a rental property it is a good idea to refer to a map and become familiar with where facilities (e.g. shops, public transport, chemist, doctor etc.) are located in relation to the property. It can be difficult to remember all the things you need when inspecting the property and for this reason, take along the Housing Checklist (page 19). This is also handy for comparing properties.

ALLOW ENOUGH TIME TO FIND A RENTAL PROPERTY
Given that there is strong competition for affordable rental properties in Melbourne, it is advisable to allow yourself at least 4 weeks to find suitable housing, especially at the start of semester when many students are looking to secure affordable housing. This allows time to have a look at a range of properties on the market and helps you to find a property that suits your needs.

FOOTSCRAY UNIVERSITY TOWN
Footscray – a marvellous multicultural hub close to the CBD!
Home to VU’s Footscray Park and Footscray Nicholson St Campuses, Footscray can offer lower housing and accommodation costs than the CBD. You can enjoy a vibrant lifestyle with bustling markets, public gardens and loads of cafes and restaurants offering Vietnamese and African cuisines.

Footscray Railway station is a main hub providing easy access to all VU’s campuses. The city campuses are just two stops away. Regional Rail links to Geelong, Ballarat and Bendigo also transit through Footscray.

TIP
Never pay a Bond in cash. Get a bank cheque or money order (from a Post Office) made out to the Residential Tenancies Bond Authority (RTBA) and complete the Bond Lodgement form together with the landlord or agent.

TIP
Before moving into any rented premises, ensure the lease holder has written permission of the landlord. If the person states they are the owner ask for proof such as Land Rates.

TIP
Ensure that you fully understand any tenancy documents before you sign them. Seek advice from Consumer Affairs Victoria or Senior Advisor Housing if you are unsure of your rights and responsibilities.
HOMESTAY

Homestay provides a cultural exchange between you and a local family or individual (called a Host). You live as a guest in the host’s home. Unlike many other accommodation options you do not need to pay a bond, provide furniture, sign a lease or search for a property.

Living in a supported environment, you are provided with a clean furnished room (this includes items like a bed, desk, wardrobe, chair and a study lamp) access to bathroom and laundry facilities and meal services. Utilities (electricity, gas and water etc.) are also included. The minimum stay is 4 weeks.

Hosts offer ongoing support and orientation to the local area and facilities such as banks, post office, shops, public transport etc.

Homestay charges vary. As a general guide, it costs between A$250 and A$305 per week. The rate may depend on whether the host is offering a single or shared bedroom, the type of accommodation (house/unit) and the location of the residence. Homestay agencies who arrange the placement charge a placement fee. This is usually equal to one week’s rent.

Victoria University’s preferred homestay provider is Australian Homestay Network (AHN).

To find out more please refer to www.homestaynetwork.org/VU-students or www.homestaynetwork.org/VU-agents or phone +61 3 9435 6621 or 1300 MY STAY.

AHN students are covered by insurances and have a 24/7 emergency phone line.

WHEN PROBLEMS ARISE IN HOMESTAY

In the event that a problem does occur, try to talk through the problem directly with the other person. Choose a time that you are both available and think ahead about what you want to say. It might also be helpful to write down the points you want to raise. Remember to stay focused on the issue and talk about the problem, not the person. Remaining open to new ideas and looking for areas where there is common interest can often help with reaching a resolution.

If you are reluctant to speak directly with the other person, then it is important that you contact the Homestay agent or Student Housing Services Phone 9919 6100.

The Dispute Settlement Centre of Victoria (DSCV) also provides a mediation service. Phone 9603 8370; 1800 658 528 – toll free for regional callers.

For further information refer to the Understanding Your Rights and Responsibilities section.

TIP

Deal with the issue early. The longer a problem is left, the more difficult it becomes to resolve.
HOSTELS/ROOMING HOUSES

Any house or building that has four or more people who individually rent a room and share facilities may be classified as a hostel or rooming house and should be a registered business. Hostels are popular amongst students who like living with other people in a communal environment. You can rent your own locked bedroom (single room) or share a bedroom with other students.

Bedrooms may be furnished with a bed, wardrobe, table and chair and lamp. You share the kitchen(s), dining room(s), laundry(s). Utilities are normally included in the rent unless separately metered. Most hostels usually have a café where you can buy meals and the larger hostels often have gyms, bars, travel agents, and business facilities.

Some things to consider:
- if you asked to share your room, you have to agree first and your rent must be reduced
- the maximum bond you can be asked to pay is up to 14 days rent
- seek advice if you are asked to sign a tenancy agreement
- if you want to leave the rooming house, you need to give at least 2 business days notice for which you will need to pay rent.

STUDENT APARTMENTS

Student apartments are run by commercial operators. Apartments include bathrooms and kitchen facilities. If you enjoy independent living, this option may be worth considering. The rooms are fully furnished with most complexes having a management team and usually security. There are different apartment configurations, including one bedroom, two bedroom and twin share.

Renting your own apartment may be expensive so many students tend to share an apartment. Shared rental means that each student has a locked bedroom and shares the kitchen, etc.

TIP
A landlord cannot put additional people in a room without the consent of the current occupier.

TIP
Costs can vary between the above mentioned options, so it is worth calling a few different accommodation providers and asking about their short and long term rates. There are also temporary accommodation listings (e.g. hotels, motels and backpackers) that can be accessed by visiting the Student Housing Services website vu.edu.au/housing.

TIP
Leases for student apartments are normally 6 or 12 months. If you need to break a lease early, break lease costs will apply and may be quite substantial.

LIVING COSTS

The following table lists the average living costs per student for a room in an established household in the private market as compared to a room in a 6 bedroom apartment in UniLodge @ VU. This is a guide only and costs are subject to increase and may vary depending on location, lifestyle needs and choices. Costs are calculated for one full year. Setting up your own house or flat would be more expensive than either of these options.

STEPS TO STARTING A TENANCY

1. Inspect Property
2. Lodge application.
3. Application accepted.
4. Real estate agent/landlord gives you a Residential Tenancy Agreement to read, understand and sign – keep a signed copy.
5. Pay the bond in bank cheque or Money Order (from post offices) made to Residential Tenancies Bond Authority and one month’s rent in advance.

Note: if you are starting a tenancy in a rooming house and the rent is to be paid weekly, the rooming house owner cannot ask for more than 14 days rent in advance and the bond cannot be more than 14 days rent. Refer to Rooming House section on page 5 of the Housing Guide.

6. You are provided with a Bond Lodgement Form to complete and sign. You keep one copy.
7. Real estate agent/landlord forwards the bond to the Residential Tenancies Bond Authority (RTBA) within 10 business days of receiving the bond money.
8. The RTBA sends you a receipt within 7 days of receiving the bond.
9. A Condition Report on the premises is given to you by the landlord/real estate agent. This very important document details the condition of the premises at the start of the tenancy. You have 3 business days from when you receive the keys to add your comments to this report and hand a copy back to the landlord or agent.

Note: It is also recommended that you take photographs of the condition of the property and any existing damage prior to moving in.

10. Return a copy of the Condition Report with your written comments within 3 working days to the landlord or real estate agent. Keep a signed copy.
11. Arrange connection of gas, electricity and water (In Rooming Houses these would be connected and cost included in the rent unless the room is separately metered.)
12. Settle in.

TIP

Keep all your tenancy documents (lease, condition report and any photos) rent receipts and correspondence with the real estate agent or landlord in one folder. Check that you receive receipts for the rent, bond and any bills. Also, remember the importance of checking the property location and the safety inside and outside of the property.

CONDITION REPORT

The Condition Report states the condition of the property when you moved in.

It is vital that you carefully go through the property room by room either tick the column next to each item if you agree, or make a comment if you do not. Write in any additional item/s of damage you find that is not shown on the Condition Report. Take photos to support your comments and findings.

Return a copy of the Condition Report to the real estate agent or landlord within 3 working days of moving into the property.

The Condition Report provides the evidence to support a claim by either you or the landlord or real estate agent in the event of a dispute between you and the landlord at the end of your tenancy.

The Condition Report documents:
- state of cleanliness of the property
- state of the fixtures and fittings
- declares if there is any existing damage.

TIP

Use descriptive words on the Condition Report to describe state of cleanliness. e.g. moderately or heavily soiled instead of emotional words such as ‘this place is filthy!’

Describe damage accurately e.g. 6 slats of the lounge vertical blind are torn.

TIP

Generally, rental accommodation becomes more expensive the closer it is located to the Melbourne CBD.
DURING A TENANCY

TENANT’S RESPONSIBILITIES
- Pay rent on time. If the rent is 14 days or more behind, the landlord or real estate agent issues you a Notice to Vacate.
- Take care to avoid damaging the property.
- Report any damage caused by you or your visitors.
- Notify the landlord or real estate agent of required repairs in writing.
- Connect utilities and telephone.
- Keep the property clean; maintain the garden and lawns (if any) as stated in the tenancy agreement.

LANDLORD/REAL ESTATE AGENT RESPONSIBILITIES
- Lodge bond money with the Residential Tenancies Bond Authority (RTBA).
- Must repair and maintain the property.
- Give you privacy and must give you a notice to visit or enter your property.

If you would like to discuss responsibilities during a tenancy or further information, contact:
Student Housing Services, Victoria University
Phone 9919 6100
Tenants Union of Victoria
www.tuv.org.au
Phone 9416 2577
Consumer Affairs Victoria
www.consumer.vic.gov.au
Phone 1300 558 181

TIP
Ignoring your responsibilities may have an impact on the ability of future students to arrange accommodation with landlords. You may also have renting problems if you try to rent in the future.

MOVING

Some important things to take care of before you move out of a house include making sure that you have paid your share of the bills, cleaned your share of the house, disconnected the gas, etc. if relevant, and provided your forwarding address or have you mail redirected by Australia Post.

LEAVING A PROPERTY AT THE END OF AN EXPIRED LEASE
If you are living in shared housing (and not on the lease), tell your housemate/s that you want to leave and give them an exit date. Your housemate/s can then decide whether they want to advertise for a new housemate.
If you are on the lease, you need to tell your housemates and give 28 days written notice to the landlord or real estate agent of your intention to vacate. Your housemates can then decide whether to advertise for a new housemate or also give 28 days written notice to vacate to the landlord or agent.
If you are living in your own rental property, you need to give at least 28 days notice in writing to the landlord or real-estate agent.

THE FINAL INSPECTION
The real-estate agent or landlord has 10 working days from when you vacate the property to:
- undertake the final condition inspection to ensure the property is clean and undamaged
- process your bond claim for refund
- notify you of any issues of dispute such as cleaning or damage
- and if there is an issue, lodge an application with the Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal (VCAT) for the matter to be heard.

Leave the property in the same or better condition as when you signed the lease. Prior to the final inspection, repair any damage to the property that may have occurred. Remember to take all your belongings.
Share households usually have copies of all bills sent prior to the inspection date. You will need to pay your share of the utility bills (water, gas, electricity and phone) on your vacating date. All keys and borrowed goods also need to be returned to the landlord on the vacating date. Extra rent may be charged if the keys are returned late.
BREAKING A LEASE EARLY

If your lease (contract or agreement) has not yet expired and you want to break it early, then you may be liable to pay the rent until the property is re-let. This may include the re-let fee and any additional advertising fees.

The landlord needs to take all reasonable action to re-let a vacant property and cannot discriminate against potential tenants. Phone the landlord regularly to see if they have re-let the property.

The re-letting provision does not apply to hostels, rooming houses (unless signed into a contract) or shared housing situations. See Student Housing Services asap if you need advice.

Landlords may also legally apply to the Victorian Civil Administration Tribunal (VCAT) for you to pay compensation if you break your lease early.

For free confidential advice, contact

Student Housing Services
Phone 9919 6100
Email housing@vu.edu.au

You can advertise for free on VU’s Student Housing database or with another tertiary institution to see if another student will take over your lease when you leave. If you have immediate reasons for breaking the lease, such as the rented property being unfit for human use or major repairs have not been undertaken as requested, seek advice from:

Student Housing Services
Phone 9919 6100

Tenants Union of Victoria
Phone 9416 2577

TIP

It can be expensive to break a lease. Before entering into a fixed term tenancy agreement, think about your likelihood of staying at the property for the full period of the lease.

CLEANING

Final cleaning includes:

- carpets are cleaned and lawns mowed
- all surfaces (benches, floors and oven top) are dirt and stain free
- the oven/griller and bathroom/laundry have been cleaned
- newspapers are recycled and all rubbish placed out for collection
- all belongings (furniture, clothes, books, PC and pet plants) have been removed.

In shared households, bedroom cleaning is 100% the responsibility of the person who sleeps/ slept in it. Cleaning of communal areas (kitchen, lounge, bathroom, laundry and garden) is shared equally between all housemates. Be aware that failure to clean adequately may result in the landlord claiming commercial cleaning costs (this can amount to hundreds of dollars).

STORAGE

If you have a household of furniture including bed/s, wardrobe, bookshelf, chest of drawers, washing machine, fridge, microwave, sofa, table and chairs, bike, clothes, books, PC, desk, TV and stereo, you may want to use a removalist and hire storage to keep your furniture.

Compare prices of storage companies and removalists listed on the internet or in the local newspaper and yellow pages. Check with removalists how big their truck is, if insurance is included and if the quoted removalist price is for 1 or 2 people.

BOND RETURNS

Complete a Bond Claim form in pen – avoid leaving any blank sections on the form and never sign a blank Bond Claim form.

Ensure your bank account details and other form sections are completed correctly and that you sign it the same way you did when it was first lodged. Bond refund is usually returned in 2–3 business days. The RTBA provides no counter cheques and the Bond Claim form must be signed by the landlord before lodging.

BOND TRANSFERS

If you paid a bond/security deposit in shared housing that was lodged with the RTBA, then you need to complete a Tenant Transfer form. The new tenant (or remaining tenants) pay you the bond money you are owed. Any new tenant is then included on the lease and their share of the bond is recorded in their name. You should check with the real estate agent/landlord that your name has been removed from the lease.

CANCELLING THE GAS, ELECTRICITY, WATER, PHONE AND INTERNET

If the utilities account/s are in your name, you need to give at least 48 hours notice to your retailer prior to vacating to ensure the final readings are done to avoid being charged for utilities after you vacate. In most instances you can do these arrangements on-line.

MAIL REDIRECTION

Complete a Mail Redirection form on-line with Australia Post to have your mail sent from your current address to another local or overseas address. The cost of this service is around $23 per month and you can organise it in advance. Redirecting of letters overseas does incur extra costs – see Australia Post website for more information.

TIP

You may be able to acquire storage boxes free from supermarkets. Ask friends if they have a spare room or garage that you can rent short-term to store your stuff.

TIP

The Residential Tenancy Bond Authority (RTBA) will not accept a Bond Claim form if it has been altered in any way. If a tenant, landlord or real estate agent needs to make any changes to the form, they must complete a new Bond Claim form.
UNDERSTANDING YOUR RIGHTS AND RESPONSIBILITIES

When you start renting a property, you enter into a lease. There are two types of leases: fixed term and periodic. Fixed term leases are for a set period of time, usually 6 or 12 months. A periodic lease generally runs from month to month.

It is important to understand that a lease is a legally binding contract between you and the landlord. If you break a lease (e.g. leave before the end of the agreed time period), it can be very costly. For this reason, only sign a fixed term lease if you are sure that you want to stay at the property for the entire period of the lease.

Remember that you are entitled to negotiate the terms of the lease with the landlord – the law does not require that a lease is for 6 or 12 months. It is just common practice. For example, you can ask the landlord to change the lease period to fit the academic year.

If you are renting a property with other people, you and the other tenants all need to sign the lease.

If you are moving into an already established share house, you should request written permission from the landlord to have your name added to the tenancy agreement. Having your name on the lease gives you the same rights as your housemates.

You are, however, also equally responsible for what happens in the house. For example, you are equally responsible for any damage to the property and non payment of rent.

If someone is moving out as you move in, make sure that you both sign a Bond Transfer form prior to paying the bond money to the tenant who is leaving. Ask the landlord or agent to come and inspect the property and complete a new Condition Report so you are not held responsible for any damage that might have occurred before you moved into the house.

There are some circumstances where you may be in a sub-letting arrangement. This is where a tenant assumes the role of landlord and sub-lets property. Your rights and responsibilities are the same as a tenant under the Residential Tenancies Act.

More information on this type of housing arrangement is available from:

As a tenant, it is important that you read Renting a Home: A Guide for Tenants or Rooming Houses: A Guide for Residents, produced by Consumer Affairs Victoria. These booklets provide information about your and your landlord’s/rooming house owner’s rights and responsibilities. It is required by law that you are given one of these guides by the landlord or real estate agent. Student Housing Services also has copies of these booklets.

TIP
It is wise to do as much research as possible on your rights and responsibilities prior to entering into any tenancy arrangement. Tenancy Law can be complicated and the onus of responsibility is with you in understanding your rights and obligations.
