

VIETNAMESE LANGUAGE AND CULTURE

- The Vietnamese Language and Culture at VICTORIA UNIVERSITY offers units at different levels, catering for
  - Students who are starting to learn Vietnamese as total beginners;
  - Students for whom Vietnamese is their first language and who wish to improve their proficiency, particularly in reading and writing; and
  - Students who are only interested in studying Vietnamese culture and society without the language component.
- The Vietnamese Language and Culture can be taken as a specialisation or as an elective unit. It is also offered within the Graduate Diploma in Modern Languages (Vietnamese) and as part of an Honours program or a postgraduate degree.
- As a cooperative arrangement between the two universities, Melbourne University students are allowed to enrol in Vietnamese units offered at Victoria University as part of their courses.

Units offered in 2012 include:

Level	Semester 1	Semester 2
1	ACV1001 Basic Vietnamese A (Entry Level for Complete Beginners)	ACV1002 Basic Vietnamese B
2 & 3	ACV2001 Intermediate Vietnamese A (Entry Level for Native Speakers of Vietnamese)	ACV2002 Intermediate Vietnamese B
	ACV3001 Vietnamese Culture and Society (No prior knowledge of the language required)	ACV3002 Vietnam: Globalisation, Diaspora and Identity (No prior knowledge of the language required)
	ACV3011 Vietnamese for Business	ACV3022 Vietnamese Film and Media

NOTES:

1. Students with no previous knowledge of Vietnamese should commence with ACV1001 Basic Vietnamese A.
2. Vietnamese native speakers should commence with ACV2001 Intermediate Vietnamese A or any other subject appropriate to their interests and level of proficiency.
3. Students who are interested in Vietnamese culture and society but do not want to study the language can choose ACV3001 Vietnamese Culture and Society and/or ACV3002 Vietnam: Globalisation, Diaspora and Identity which are taught in English.
4. Students who want to take Vietnamese as an elective can enrol in any of the above units after consulting with the lecturer.

For further information, please contact
 Dr Tuan Ngoc Nguyen
 Phone: 9919 4049; Email: tuan.nguyen@vu.edu.au
 Office: Room E214D, Footscray Park Campus