

This form is for international onshore students on a student visa (excluding exchange and study abroad students).

As part of the student visa conditions, Victoria University (VU) monitors the course progress of students to ensure they can complete their course requirements within the specified course duration as per their Confirmation of Enrolment (COE). To meet this requirement, students are expected to study a full load (48 credit points) in each half year period (i.e. January to June or July to December).

Students who are in their final study period with less than 48 Credit Points remaining in their course of study are not required to apply for a reduced study load.

Sponsored students are encouraged to contact their sponsor to advise them of the reduction in study load. This is important because reducing the study load may impact the financial guarantee amount and duration that has been agreed to by the student's sponsor and the University. An unauthorised reduced study load may result in the sponsor refusing to cover costs for study periods not agreed to.

To reduce the study load, students must seek College recommendation and permission from the Enrolments team, by completing and submitting this application form. Until the application has been approved in writing, the student must attend all classes, submit assignments, participate in all unit related activities including exams and pay all course fees by the due date for the relevant study period. The application will be rejected if any tuition fees are outstanding. An outcome letter will be issued to the student within five working days and emailed to their VU student email account.

Reduced study load reasons

The University can only approve a reduced study load in special circumstances that are deemed to be beyond the student's control.

Please note: All documents must be originals or certified copies and in English. Documents issued in a foreign language must be translated by a registered translator or interpreter
